Colonel O'Ferrall's gains are running far ahead of the most sanguine of his supporters. It looks now as though the convention would hardly indulge in the formality of a ballot.

A DEBT OF HONOR.

The most remarkable victory of the whole campaign, and the last nail in the coffin of the Tyler canvass, is recorded elsewhere. Lynchburg has followed the lead of Roanoke and elected a solid delegation of twenty-four in favor of the nomination of Colonel O'Ferrall. The chivalrous Democracy of Lynchburg have remembered the day when Colonel O'Ferrall, out-numbered six to one, fought off Hunter's raiders until Early threw his war-worn legions like a protecting arm around her hills. Your wounds, O'Ferrall, are well repaid !

THE MESSAGE.

President Cleveland's message on the silver question is now before the whole civilized world. He has spoken the word which will echo around the earth. It is a calm and clear headed utterance. with which even extreme silver men can find but little fault. As Voorhees said of Lincoln, Cleveland is easily equal to every occasion.

The singular feature of this State paper, as of others which have preceded it, is the absence of theoretical argument, and that strict treatment of existing conditions which is one of the best signs of statesmanship. The President does not ascribe to the Sherman act all the financial evils from which the country suffers, but accuses it of causing the apprehension which lies at the bottom of the present panic. It seems to us that Congress will have great difficulty in refusing to act upon the President's suggestion and repeal the obnoxious law. It should be clearly noted, however, that the President leaves the way open for the future, and we think inevitable, restoration of silver to its place as a standard of value, by international agreement, which he points out is only possible when the rest of the world is given to understand that the United States will not endeavor to carry the load single handed.

BASEBALL NEWS.

Richmond College and Roanoke to Do

Much disappointment was felt by the lovers of baseball yesterday on account tof the non-arrival of the Lynchburg team, who were scheduled to play with the R. A. C. nine. The train on which they were to come was two hours late, and they could not get here before about 6:30, and Acting Manager Davis tole graphed them not to come. Manager Dunn, of the Lynchburgs, is in the city, and a game will probably be arranged for Saturday.

and a game will probably be arranged for Saturday.

To day the Richmond College team will play with the home team and a good game may be expected. The visitors will probably have Johnson and Hodge in the points, the battery that did such effectual work against the Petersburgs.

Calliflower, the new pitcher secu elfor the Roanokes, will arrive in the city to day. He pitched for the Richmond College team at Staunton on Monday, and but four hits were made off him, the Stauntons being defeated by a score of 7 to 3.

Walter Daniel, the clever little catcher of the Roanokes, has been ap pointed to a position on The Times, and will assume his duties next week.

"It was my purpose to summon Congress in special session early in the coming September that we might enter promptly upon the work of tariff reform which the true interests of the country clearly demand, which so large a majority of the people as shown by their suffrages desire and expect, and to the ac complishment of which every effort of the present administration is pledged, but while tariff reform has lost nothing of its immediate and permanent importance and must in the near future engage the attention of Congress, it has seemed to me the financial condition of the country should at once, and before all other subjects, be considered by your honorable body.

"I earnestly recommend the prompt repeal of the provision of the act passed July 14, 1890, authorizing the purchase of silver bullion and that other legislative action may put beyond all doubt or mistake the intention and the ability of the Government to fulfill its pecuniary obligations in money universally recognized by all civilized countries.

When the stew was placed before full." When the stew was placed before him, he proceeded to season it. First he shook a salt castor over the milky soup about a dozen times; then he gave a red pepper bottle an equal number of dashes. This he followed by liberal qualities of vinegar, sherry wine, worcestershire sauce, catchup and several dipperfuls of horseradish. He next broke up one dozen water crackers into the stew and mixed the whole business up into a sort of mush. business up into a sort of mush.
